CAMELLIA, MATHOTIANA RUBRA

CAMELLIA, LADY JANE GRAY

Azalea Indica

For the last few years we have been trying Azaleas here in Winter Haven and have found that we can grow very fine plants. This season we have a few to offer, which we are sure will please you; next year we will have a much better selection and a larger quantity. They are grown in almost pure peat and have wonderful root systems. The fact that these plants are grown in full sun and are well spaced makes them very bushy—not the leggy type that you will find in many lathhouse-grown plants.

We suggest that you contact us early for your needs, because the plants we have are sure to be sold before the season is over.
